

A horizontal number line is shown with several tick marks. Above the line, the digit '0' is placed at the first tick mark from the left, and the digit '1' is placed at the fourth tick mark from the left. The number line itself has an arrow at the right end, indicating it continues infinitely.